A DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE. By JORETH E. WORLESTER, LL. D. Boston: Swan, Brewer, & Therron. Cleveland: Indust & Braco. Columbus: J. H. Rhat.

An advertisament by the publishers of this Dictionary will be found in this paper, to which the attention of the public is invited. Dr. Won-CESTER's Dictionary is published in various forms for general use and convenience. The principal editions are the lerge Royal Quarto and the Octavo, designed for school, counting-room and for ordinary use and reference, when the simple definition, pronunciation or orthography of a word only is sought.

The Quarto Dictionary, in the finish and beauty of its mechanical work, and in the copiousness of its vocabulary, can hardly be excelled. It is claimed that it contains twenty thous and words and meanings not to be found in any similar work. Many other important and decided improvements and advantages are claimed for Worcester's over any other Dictionary of our language. Among these, that of a correct orthography is, perhaps, the most important .-Our literary men, standard writers, and leading periodicals, generally follow Wongesten in the spelling of words. Beside this, the definitions of wordsjare generally very accurate and full, and embody a great amount of general and scientific information.

The following are the contents of this great work of Dr. Woncesven: Principles of Pronunciation; English Grammar; Origin, Formation, and Etymology of the English Language; Archælsms, Provincialisms, and Americanisms; History of English Lexicography; A Catalogue of English Dictionaries, Glossaries, Encyclopædias, &c.; A Dictionary of the English Language, which forms the body of the Work; Pronunciation of Greek and Latin Proper Names; Pronunciation of beripture Proper Names; Pronunciation of Modern Geographical Names; Pronunciation of the Names of Distinguished Men of Modern Times; Abbreviations used in Writing and Printing; A Collection of Words, Phrases and Quotations from the Greek, Latin, French, Italian and Spanish Languages.
In the advertisement of the Dictionary in this paper will be found testimonials showing what is thought of it at home.

The following from the London Literary Gazette will show the estimation in which it is held on the other side of the Atlantic:

on the other side of the Atlantic:

"Referring to our own standard of requirements, we can only say that we have tested the work by more than a thousand references for words of rare occurrence and peculiar usage selected from standard authors of various eras of our literature, and in no instance have we thus far failed to discover his word we sought, its correct definition, and an explanation of its peculiarities. In orthography and pronunciation Dr. Worcester has consistently carried out those indictions and common sense principles which will, we feel assured, meet the approval of all soond scholars and lovers of our language in its purity and integrity. Untempted by the tocomeon desire of daraling by ingenious novelty, he has kept firmly and steadily to the lexicographer's true path, remembering that his chief duts is to record accurately and honestly the result of his researches.

Our literary and educational labors have led us, as a matter of necessity, to become more or less familiar with most of the standard Dictionaries of dead and living languages, which have appeared in England or America during the last half century; and we feel bound to avow if as our deliberate opinion that to none of these can 'Worcester's Quarts Dictionary' by considered as in any respect inferior; while as a complete and faithful Dictionary of our language in its present state, satisfying to the full those requirments, the full-illument of which we have laid down as essential to such a wear, see Annea on sore that can bear compar-most utilitarian mind is likely to demand, adorned by an extent of accurate crudition, and systematized by a philosophical and methodical arrangement, which, is not only most agreeable and satisfactory to every true scholar, but calculated to confer the greatest benefit on the future study of our language; realizing in this respect, in a striking mauner, the trath of Lord Burleigh's well-known remark: "Method is like packing things in a box, a good packer will get in half as much again as a bad one." We entertain an undoubting belief that the lapse of a Tew months will be sufficient to catabilish waresents "Dictionary as the otherousledged standard of reference among the acholars of England and America."

REPORTED FOR THE STATESMAN. U. S. Senate-Special Session.

WASHINGTON, March 11. The Senate resumed the consideration of Mr. oster's resolution for the expulsion of Senator Vigfall, and Mr. Clingman's substitute (see Wigfall, and Mr. Clingman's substitute (see Friday's Senate report).

Mr. Foster had offered the resolution neither as a party nor personal question, but had acted in accordance with his duty, considering the avowal of the Senator. He differed altogether with Mr. Clingman, that a State has the right, under the Constitution, to go out of the Union.

Mr. Foster said the Senate owed it to itself not to allow a seat here to one who avowed he was a foreigner and owed no allegiance to the country to which he belonged, but to a foreign was a foreigner and owed no allegiance to the country to which he belonged, but to a foreign government; and if that government happens to take up arms against this government, and seizes its property, and expels from its territory, by force, the troops of the United States, it became a very serious objection, and it was inconsistent to allow one so circumstanced to hold a seat here. He had no personal feelings in the matter.

matter.; Mr. Foster then argued against Mr. Clingman's substitute, which admits the right of secession, but no such thing was known to the Constitution, which was too plain on this point to argue or to admit of a doubt.

He held that the Senator was entitled to a seat on sound constitutional grounds, whether Texas seceded or not. That State, by with-

Texas seceded or not. That State, by withdrawing from the Union, could not withdraw him from that body.

Mr Clingman replied that if the accourts are true, Texas had called a convention and passed, anordinance of secession, which had been ratified by the people, and if the act was vetoed, Texas, is no longer one of the States, and he took it for granted if Texas seceded she is not entitled to a representation here. The gentleman from Texas believes his State has seceded.

The Senator from Connecticut says, the act of secession is invalid. Then, the Senator from Texas is outtied to a seat, unless an erroneous opinion disqualifies him.

Was it over maintained that because one Senator differed from another on a Constitutional question, that was a reason for expelling him? If it is an error for the Senator from Texas to believe that his State has a right to secede, why not expel the Virginia Senators, who hold the same opinion, and especially whylot expel those who declared it and have gone away. No mo who declared it and have gone away. No mo-tion is made to expel Jeff Davis, who is at the head of a foreign republic, and who has advised the seizures of arms and forts. He (Clingman) did not think the avowal of Wigfall a sufficient ground for his expulsion. He continued at some length, arguing that the course of the Senator from Connecticut was not a proper one. Mason contended that the resolution was one of expulsion for what the Senator from Texas had said on the floor, and he said if Foster thought that Wigfall ought not to occupy his seat because he was not a citi-zen, he ought to move to refer the subject to a committee, so that, if facts warrant, the seat should be declared vacant.

Mr. Foster asked whether, after the Senator from Texas had been duly elected by his State, and admitted as a member here, they could inquire into the legality by which he holds his seat, by a new fact arising which did not exist

Mr. Mason was very certain if the Senator was not entitled to a seat, it could be vacated whenever the fact warranting such a course should be disclosed.

should be disclosed.

He defended the course of Wigfall, and said if it be a punishable offense to allege a Constitutional truth, then the resolution may be well-founded; for one, he (Mason) recognized no allegiance, to this government-none whatever, and here he took his position along-side the Senginia, and no one else. Did the Senator from Connecticut resist the doctrine of constitution-States at the Senator from Texas has commit-ted an offense by saying he owed no allegiance to this government, he stood by his side, and should be unfaithful to Virginia if he did not.—
Allegiance here is that which is due from one citizen to sovereign power, and he knew no sovereign except the State. He denied that the act noon to day, and in company with Lieut. Gen. Scott and Scott such a decirine, and have formed a government, and prepared to sustain itself if attacked. Mr. Hunter considered the resolution as one of censure for the mere expression of opinions; the Senator from Texas having done nothing more than declare his belief in secession, and continued at length advocating State rights. Executive session adjourned.

Washington, March 11.—An official letter from Maj. Anderson, received Saturday, says he had only 15 days' subsistence and wood. The question has therefore risen with the Administration, whether reinforcisment be attempted or the fort abandoned. The latter course, it is thought, will be adopted from inevitable necessity, by advice of Lieut. Gen. Scott. There is, however, a conflict of opinion between Republicans on this question, but no conclusion was arrived at in Cabinet Council.

The National Intelligencer, of to-day, contains a long article recommending the relinquishment of Forts Sumter and Pickens, as an act of conciliation, and says that the new Administration might, by moving first in the direction of conciliation, do more to consolidate its power, than by passively waiting the progress of events, with a heart prepared for any late.

NOTICE

A compound remedy, designed to be the effectual Alterative that can be made, a concentrated extract of Para Surapa so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla reputed to cure. It is believed that such remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which ad accomplish their cure must prove of immension service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

ERUPTIONS AND ERCPTIVE DISEASES, ULC PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TCHORS, SALT RES SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AP-PROTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPAY, NEU-RALDIA OR TIC DOULDUREUX, DESELTY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERVSIPPLAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Informers ar

class of complaints arising from Inveners of the Bloon.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many ranking disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul cruptions and ulcarous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the ody by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the akin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no insting health. Sooner or Inter something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overtheam.

must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it but ware the for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla.

or any thing else. During late years the public have been mis-led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsapa-rills, but often no constitute assessment. they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseasen it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete cradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on be judiciously taken according to directious on
